At the event, Celsys will hold panel discussions with project representatives from Wacom and Samsung on Clip Studio Paint for Galaxy, which was launched in August 2020, as well as another with Wacom and Oiso (Kanagawa Prefecture) about how to support kids' love of drawing. Celsys will host Creative Together! Connected 21-hour Drawing Party featuring a total of 60 creators from around the world who will be streaming their live drawings for 21 hours. Clip Studio Paint will also be exhibited at a booth at the venue.

Connected Ink is an open innovation platform run by Wacom. With this event as the 5th Connected Ink event, it is possible to attend all sessions online, including the event being held at Sumitomo Building Triangle Square. Creative industry experts and ecosystem partners from Europe, the Americas, and Asia will also be present at events hosted by Wacom's local subsidiaries, which will be broadcast live on YouTube and Zoom channels and will be available to all registered users worldwide.
